

The Circle Training Program

The program does not follow a structured time table but is essentially free form. There are four circles a week that you will be directed to attend by Marc, depending on your skill level and you will move between different circles a different time.

There are key skills you will be expected to master and generally it is Marc himself who will teach you these. These start from the basics of recognising spiritual communication, opening, and closing through to much more advanced techniques such as pattern working and the rule of three. This is combined with the circle attendance, is ongoing exercise, like going to the gym over time.

Each circle is led by different person, each trained by Marc Stuart. Each has different style and area of expertise but work together as a team. Marc puts you where he thinks you should be to get the best experience. Further each Circle is slightly different in style and organisation and again you will get different experiences from each circle.

The price is fixed, but you can choose to do the program over six months, nine months or a year. If you do it in the shorter time, it is harder for you as you will be expected to take part in up to three circles a week. So, if choosing this option make sure you have the time available.

There is a discount if you pay up front, of approx. 15%.

As well as this ongoing training the program also includes:

Access to every element of the program.

An online Video library of lectures from Marc himself.

A video library of every Circle which is recorded, you can also this way access any of the circles as additional material if you wish.

There is also a What's App chat rom and you can access Marc and the other circle leaders virtually just about any time. However, remember everyone is in different time zones so there may be delays in responses.

And the membership of the Circle groups is very, very much a community that supports and helps one another.
